Normani is back in Brazil for the first time since 2017, and for the first time on her own. The plan: turn one festival slot into a five-day Brazilian moment, built with the fans, the local scene and the press.

Gates open (BRT)

TBC

Set time

Mercado Livre Arena Pacaembu · São Paulo · tickets from R$45 (Sympla)

A full-page photograph of Normani on the left side of the page. She is wearing a shiny, green, form-fitting catsuit with a high collar and long gloves. She is also wearing red-tinted sunglasses and black high-heeled shoes. She is in a crouching pose, with her hands on the ground and one leg raised, looking directly at the camera. The background is a dark, reflective surface.

Her story with Brazil isn't new.

Normani has been talking to Brazilian fans since 2012, before Fifth Harmony had an album out, and has played for them on three tours. October 2026 is her first time here on her own. It isn't an introduction. It's a homecoming.

The only way to break into the Brazilian market is through local cultural codes.

Most international artists ignore this. The ones who don't get adopted.

Quero dançar com os gays na Zig, visitar a casa da Vita e conhecer a Patixa

EN I want to dance with the gays at Zig, visit Vita's house and meet Patixa

01

Zig

A legendary gay club in São Paulo that became the city's point of reference.

02

Casa da Vita

A nod to Vita's House, the album by Vita, a trans artist whose tracks took over clubs and the underground.

03

Patixa

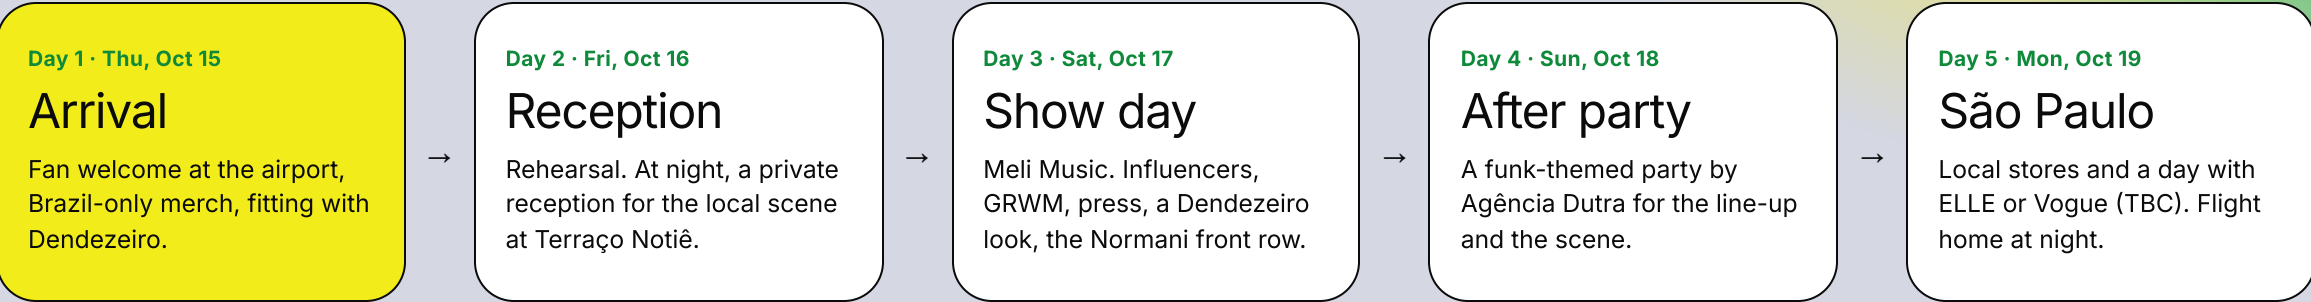

A national meme: an "influencer" who never made content herself. Every video of her online was made by other people.

Three references only a Brazilian on the internet would get. It went viral across Brazilian stan Twitter. This plan speaks the same language: the fan club, Dendzeiro, funk, and the local R&B and rap scene.

THE PLAN

Five days in São Paulo

From the moment she lands until the moment she leaves, every day has a Brazilian story to tell, and every story is built with the people who already love her here.

	FANS	LOCAL SCENE	PRESS & MEDIA	HOSTED BY
Airport welcome	● ● ●	● ○ ○	● ● ○	Fan club Normani Brasil
Notiê reception	○ ○ ○	● ● ●	● ● ○	Terraço Notiê
Show day	● ● ●	● ● ●	● ● ●	Meli Music

Arrival.

Her arrival is big from the moment she steps into the country.

01 · São Paulo airport

Fan welcome

A welcome arranged ahead of time with fans, led by the local fan club Normani Brasil: signs, banners, a photo with fans and a drop of the Brazil-exclusive merch.

02 · Same day

Pushed to local pop press

Photos and videos go straight to the big pop outlets, like POPline and Hugo Gloss, so the arrival becomes news within hours.

03 · At the hotel · time TBD

Fitting with Dendzeiro

A Black-owned Brazilian fashion label. The fitting prepares her show-day look.

A piece of Brazil to take home.

A limited merch drop made only for this trip. It gives fans something no other country has, and it leaves a physical mark of her time here: a keepsake of the week.

01

Connection

Made for Brazil, with Brazil. Fans wear it at the airport, the show and online.

COST

Price TBC. We can start with a smaller run to keep it exclusive and the cost low.

02

A keepsake

A piece that outlives the weekend and keeps her Brazil trip in people's feeds.

Mockup: 4 tees and 4 hoodies, black and white, "Normani Brasil 2026".

Rehearsal by day. The scene by night.

01 • Daytime

Rehearsal

The day is hers and the band's. No press, no appearances.

02 • 7 PM • Terraço Notiê

A private reception for the local scene

Brazil's R&B, pop, funk and rap artists, together on a rooftop in downtown São Paulo. The venue covers everything: drinks and content (photo & video).

Nothing is shared without the artist's approval. Every photo and video goes through her team first.

THE VENUE

Terraço Notiê

Rooftop of the Shopping Light building, downtown SP. Chef Onildo Rocha. "Best Brazilian Restaurant", Veja Comer & Beber 2021-23.
